We hear you

Any gripes, kudos, or ideas? Call 378-9136 to sound off.

I read the story about the girl wrestler last week and I have a question. First, I'm glad that she will be able to be in school sports. But what does the editor feel about girls wrestling? I know she's a woman and I was curious.

Oldtimer

Editor's note: I feel that girls (and boys) should be allowed to wrestle, climb mountains, skydive or engage in any challenge or competitive sport in which they can meet logical proficiency standards. I object to the local girl being barred from participation because of her sex. A common remark has been, "Aren't you afraid the girl would get hurt?" Possible injury is a consideration in any sport, contact or otherwise. But this is a question to be settled by the individual and, in the case of a minor, by his or her parents. I don't believe, as some local sports officials do, that a 105 pound girl stands a greater chance of injury than a 105 pound boy.

The reasoning behind the plan (to switch from trucks to rail for transporting Permanente products) escapes me. Sure, it would take truck traffic off those Cupertino roads. But it would just be shifting the impact to other cities. And what happens to those freight cars eventually? Surely, they would be unloaded onto trucks.

Concerned

Editor's note: The committee's idea was to have the gravel and cement transferred to trucks at the proposed new satellite station near Dixon Landing road.

Have you driven by the post office lately? The streets are a mess! If this is what the government (Public Works Bill) money is doing for our city I say let's give it back to them.

Upset

Editor's note: This is a temporary, I repeat, temporary condition. Last week the Campbell Public Works Department received many calls from residents who were upset at the loose tar and the condition of streets being worked on. According to Dave Valkenaar, assistant civil engineer, the black, oily streets are a result of a heater remix operation done to prepare those streets for resurfacing this week. The heater remix machine (which caused residents to believe something was burning because of the black smoke) heats the existing cracked pavement and chews it up to about ¾ of an inch deep. The loose, dry material is then rolled and sprayed with an asphalt rejuvenating oil. The process, Valkenaar says, is to seal existing cracks and give new life to the old pavement before new asphalt is applied. This messy operation extends the useful life of pavement

Campbell's first care home is doing just fine

By PAT SAFFORD

LOCAL RESIDENTS were up in arms when Campbell's first residential care facility was proposed on El Caminito drive last year. After four months of hearings Sister Geraldine Harris got the final clearance from the State Fire Marshal to operate a home for six developmentally disabled females on the quiet, tree-lined street.

None of the problems foreseen by concerned neighbors has come to pass. In fact, in the eight months of operation there hasn't been one complaint.

The goal of care homes is to provide the handicapped with as close to a normal environment as possible by locating them in desirable neighborhoods where they can become a part of the community.

Campbell's first and only care home for the handicapped (in this case mentally retarded adults) has fit that goal to a "T." Others aren't so fortunate.

In San Jose, where most of the care homes for the recovering or recovered mental patients, drug and alcohol programs and homes for the developmentally disabled are crowded into one area near San Jose state university, there have been serious problems and in many cases, the disabled are the victims.

AS ONE COUNTY health department official put it, "It's just not a natural situation in San Jose with them all crowded together."

El Caminito is a street of well-kept above-average older homes near Winchester and Budd avenues. There are few young children in the neighborhood. Most are attending high school or college.

Sister Geraldine's care home looks like every other home on the block, except for the fact that it has one of the best kept front yards.

Five young women, from 18 to 26, live there.

There is Leslie, a talkative girl, who likes sports and loves to work in the yard.

Maureen, an independent-minded individual who enjoys swimming, bowling and track and field sports and has many ribbons from the Special Olympics to prove it.

Darlene, a quiet young woman who spends her leisure time sewing and working jigsaw puzzles.

Jenny, who likes to be on the go, and listens to her rock and roll records in her spare time.

And finally, there's Holly, a homebody who enjoys TV, records and carries her needlework with her constantly.

ALL OF THE WOMEN are employed by the Hope

(Cont. pg. 2)

IN THE backyard of their new home on El Caminito drive in Campbell are Maureen Dily and Leslie Clark. Both enjoy sports and the outdoors. In the eight months since Campbell's first residential care facility opened here there have been no complaints.

City election March 7

THE SUDDEN appearance of campaign posters and signs during the last two weeks is the only local reminder that Campbell has a citywide election coming up in five days.

An estimated 3,200 Campbell voters are expected to go to the polls next Tuesday, March 7, to fill two city council seats and elect a trustee in the West Valley Joint Community College district.

Also on the ballot is a college bond measure and the election of City Clerk and City Treasurer. Clerk Phyllis Acker and Treasurer Nadine Sargent are running unopposed.

Four people are seeking the two spots on the Campbell City Council. Incumbents Ralph Doetsch and Bill Podgorsek are facing challengers Madge Overhouse and Fay Arlene Evans, the first women to run for council seats in more than 20 years.

Most of the candidates have been out "walking the precincts" and asking for the support of the voters.

If everyone turned out to vote that would be 10,781 Campbell voters but in an off-year election a light turnout is expected.

ACCORDING TO Hans Harder, assistant registrar of voters, a 30 to 35 percent turnout would be considered good.

"We hope we get that for a citywide election," Harder added.

Polls in Campbell's 13 precincts will open at 7 a.m. Tuesday and close at 8 p.m. Voters will be using the vote-a-matic units (with punch cards) and votes will be tallied at the county warehouse on Berger drive in San Jose starting at 8 p.m.

According to Harder anyone is welcome to come down to the auditorium at the warehouse to watch the returns come in or can call 298-7400. The absentee ballots will be counted at 8 p.m., Harder said, but results from the precincts probably won't be available until 9 or 9:30 p.m.

The Campbell PRESS will carry the complete election results in the March 16 edition, including a precinct breakdown.

This has been one of the quietest campaign years in the city's history. The problem isn't with a lack of topics to debate but with the fact that most candidates have the same views.

THE OLD CAMPBELL grammar school property is a case in point. All four candidates favor the city acquiring that 8-plus acre site to be used for a neighborhood center.

The only issue is over whether or not there should be term limitations for elected officials.

Doetsch is seeking a fifth four-year term on the council while Podgorsek is after a third term. Both Evans and Overhouse have stated they favor term limitations.

The 10,781 registered voters in Campbell are up from 1976 when 8,447 were registered in February and 9,110 in April.

Times Observer joins our papers

THE 97-YEAR-OLD Los Gatos Times Observer, three-time-a-week newspaper serving 12,000 families in Los Gatos, Monte Sereno and Saratoga, is joining the SUNpaper family of Santa Clara county community papers on March 1.

Suburban Newspaper Publications Inc., which publishes the SUNpapers, will assume operations of the T-O on March 1. However, retiring publisher George Kane will remain on during the transition period. No other staff changes are contemplated, according to Mort Levine, SNPI president.

Kane will be 65 this year.

SNPI is acquiring 100% of the stock of the paper's publishing firm, Los Gatos Publishing Co., and will lease the paper's plant and offices at 114 Royce st., Los Gatos. The transaction is expected to be completed by March 15.

Elaine Levine, publisher of the SUNpapers, will assume added duties in charge of the T-O and working with the paper's 15 fulltime staff members.

SNPI's other publications cover most of the valley communities from Los Altos to South San Jose. The addition of Los Gatos coverage brings the total circulation to nearly 300,000 homes reached each week.

Signups for city classes underway

A FAVORITE spot in the spotless care home on El Caminito drive for young women is the living room with its TV, stereo, puzzle table and bookshelves. Above, Holly Smith is busy with her latest embroidery project while Jenny Casada and Darleen Docter work on puzzles. While Campbell has four small and two large care homes for the elderly, the El Caminito home is the first care facility for the disabled. Officially, a care home for 12 women on Arnott way is listed in Campbell but it is outside the city limits. Still, Campbell isn't doing so badly. Both Los Gatos and Saratoga have no care homes for the disabled.

Care home fits in quiet neighborhood

Rehabilitation Center in San Jose weekdays where Sister Geraldine serves as an aide. Most do electronic assembly work and are paid every other Friday.

They use public transportation to get to and from work and to go shopping or to the movies and each keeps her own room clean and shares KP duties Saturday mornings.

For most of the young women this is the first time they've lived away from their families and, for some, the transition has been harder than for others.

"At first there were a lot of back-and-forth trips between home and here," Sister Geraldine explained. Many still go home for weekend visits, some every weekend and some every two or three weeks.

Sister Geraldine does most of the cooking, with help from Holly and Jennie, and all fix their own breakfast and bag lunches to take to work.

Last year they grew their own artichokes and tomatoes in the backyard and this year, with the ample rains, they hope to have a larger vegetable garden.

On Saturdays, after the housework is finished, they take their laundry to a nearby laundromat.

The house is immaculate, not one stray curler or blow dryer in sight. And the young women get along well together. There were some adjustment problems at first, Sister Geraldine admits. One was with the TV.

"THEY USED TO fight over the TV," she said, "but we worked out schedules." Now, each gets to watch their favorite shows (fortunately, there were no conflicts here). And for Leslie it's the Donnie and Marie Osmond show.

With the opposition to Campbell's first care home you might expect there would have been problems with the neighbors. Not so, says Sister Geraldine.

"The neighbors have been nice," she said. "One woman down the street was very nice and called and came down to visit. And most of the kids on the block are college age and most friendly to us."

Sister Geraldine sees her goal as helping the young women to gain independence, little by little. "To learn to live well with as much independence as possible."

In some cases the adjustment for the families has been harder than for their children.

"It's hard to see them go but the families realize the necessity of it."

TIES WITH HOME are still close, though, and Maureen talks proudly of her younger sister who is a member of the Leigh High School marching band.

"I don't like it when people say I'm handicapped," Maureen added. ('I don't either,' Leslie declared.) "I want to be treated just like everyone else. Everyone has some kind of handicap but God treated everyone equal."

"I'm on my own because I want to be on my own," Maureen declared.

And Maureen, and the others, are certainly getting a chance to gain that independence. She, for one, does her own shopping, dates a young man from a San Jose board and care home, and is studying sewing, cooking, money management and reading.

"I'm proving I'm a normal human being," she declared with a smile.

IT WAS an uphill battle for Sister Geraldine Harris when she proposed a care home for the developmentally disabled in Campbell last year. Final approval came through in June of 1977. Prior to running the local home, Sister Geraldine taught for 22 years in southern California, San Francisco, Santa Clara and Carmel and did volunteer work at Agnews State Hospital and at a downtown San Jose care facility. Her work with the disabled was sparked, she says, by the fact that she saw so few opportunities for her 9-year-old niece who is mentally retarded. A member of the order of Notre Dame, any proceeds from operation of the home (when there are any) will go to the order.

'NO' ON THE BONDS

On four separate occasions, the voters have said "no" to the $30 million bond issue to build an unneeded and unwanted second campus in Santa Clara. But the bond issue is back again. Let's keep telling them "no" until they get the message!
AND WHILE YOU'RE AT IT...

ELECT AL MASON

TO THE COLLEGE GOVERNING BOARD

Of five candidates running for a single spot on the West Valley College District Governing Board in Tuesday's election, only Al Mason is taking his stand firmly with the great majority of the voters who keep voting "no" on the bond issue. Only Mason opposes both the bond issue and the override tax. Only Mason is committed to stopping the wasteful second campus that the people keep saying they don't want. Only Mason is listening to what the people have been saying: Stop building unneeded facilities and CUT TAXES NOW! Only Mason represents the taxpayers.

Jester Hairston conducts

350-voice choir performs at Prospect this Friday

A special attraction at the Campbell Union High School District's annual choral festival will be guest conductor Jester Hairston.

Hairston, nationally known choral conductor, arranger, musician and actor, will direct the 350-voice choir this Friday evening, March 3 at Prospect High School.

There is no admission charge for the 8:15 p.m. performance.

The famed arranger is best remembered for his role of Leroy, the King Fish's brother-in-law, in the popular Amos and Andy TV and Radio Music Hall shows. In 1943 he organized his own choir in Hollywood and arranged the choral background for many films including "Friendly Persuasion."

Friday evening Hairston will take the solo part in two numbers.

The program includes "Little David, Play on Your Harp," "I'm Going Down That Lonesome Road," "Poor Man Lazrus" and the closing number, "Amen."

Water saved but could double cost

Last year was unquestionably a drought year and Santa Clara Valley residents apparently heeded the call for water conservation.

A report from the Santa Clara Valley Water District showed county residents cut their 1977 water consumption by over 23 per cent and as a result saved some 22 billion gallons.

Even with the drought now a thing of the past, water officials say valley residents still are doing their part to conserve. This conservation was eyed for quite some time as the main alternative to forced rationing, now no longer needed.

In a related matter, water could end up costing double its present amount by 1981 if water district directors okay a twofold rate increase.

Increased revenues would be channeled into this county's participation in the San Felipe water project which originally was thought to cost $41 million but now stands at $70 million.

A public hearing on rate hikes is scheduled March 14. Public and private water companies would be allowed to pass on higher costs to consumers.

Rates would jump initially from $34 to $43 an acre foot for municipal and industrial water patrons and from $8.50 to $10.75 for agricultural users. Another large increase is projected, starting in 1981-82.

January's water use total, 13,267 acre feet, is the lowest since the prolonged drought began.

Water district officials say valley residents, farmers and industry used 230,151 acre feet of water in 1977 compared with almost 300,000 acre feet the previous year. Monthly savings ranged from a low of 8 per cent in August to over 48 per cent in May.

Officials still point out this county is behind in replenishing water lost during the drought by groundwater pumping.

They work better when they're sharp.

City council endorsement

Four candidates are seeking two seats on the Campbell City Council this Tuesday, March 7.

Incumbents Bill Podgorsek and Ralph Doetsch face newcomers Arlene Evans and Madge Overhouse.

After careful consideration of all candidates we feel that one stands head and shoulders above the others and deserves the support of the voters.

Madge Overhouse, 53, is making her first bid for local office.

She is an intelligent, well informed individual who, we feel, can offer new ideas and approaches to local problems and concerns.

Her background in Democratic politics gives her the know-how to function effectively on both the local and regional level.

Her involvement in civic affairs, including the Campbell Historical Advisory Committee, indicates a sincere interest in her community.

Her election would bring the first city councilwoman to office in this city's 26 year history, still another reason to support her candidacy.

The Campbell PRESS endorses MADGE OVERHOUSE for election to the City Council March 7.

West Valley College board race

The PRESS choice to fill a vacancy on the West Valley College board of trustees is Sandy Krakowski, a 34-year-old Santa Clara housewife, who has donated many volunteer hours to Santa Clara public schools.

Krakowski is bright and articulate and comes to the post without political ties, big contributors or other vested interests to sway her vote. She would, we think, offer a freshness and independence to the currently polarized West Valley Board.

Krakowski's election would add the voice of a second woman to the seven-member board. With many women now taking advantage of re-entry programs to hone the job skills and advance their education, another woman's viewpoint would be an asset.

Krakowski holds a master's degree in school administration from San Jose State College and a bachelor's degree in English and elementary education. She is, we think, the best qualified of the five candidates.

But perhaps most important, we like her common sense refusal to say what is popular and politically expedient simply to win votes.

An encouraging word for the folks at Campbell junior high

EDITOR:

I feel that it is time for someone to step forward and say a few words of support for the Campbell (elementary) school district and, in particular, for Campbell Junior High.

I would like to address my remarks to the recent charges made by "Giving Up" who labeled the school a "total disaster" due to overcrowded classrooms, disinterested teachers, vandalism and poor quality education.

Let's look at some facts:

• Overcrowded classrooms: This year my daughter's classes average only 21 students per class. (Last year they averaged 24 per class).

• Disinterested teachers: I have observed the classrooms and attended numerous conferences and have found the teachers to be well-prepared instructors who enjoy their work.

• Vandalism: Campbell Junior High, as other schools, has been subject to some property destruction. But the lack of respect for property and the rights of others generates from the home and not the school.

• Poor education: In the one and a half years that my daughter has attended this school she has learned with a high degree of competency; how to sew, type, speak Spanish, research and write a well organized paper and can express with clarity and understanding such subjects as algebra, civics, history and literature. All of this as I did not instruct my daughter in any of these subjects.

"Giving Up" would be making a serious mistake by enrolling her children in private school for the reasons she has stated. As a taxpayer, "Giving Up" is entitled to a good public education for her children and with positive effort it can be achieved.

It is time this parent conferred with teachers and administrators expressing her viewpoint. If she does this, she will find solutions to the problems at hand and will never regret having her children educated by this fine school.

From a parent who switched

EDITOR:

A word to "Giving Up" from one who already has. We placed our children in private education a short time ago and already the results are gratifying. You may feel it is hard in September to find an opening as many others are just as disgusted.

I want to see tenure thrown out of the system and competition return.

Why shouldn't we have the best educators out there? God knows we need them.

Thankful we made the change!

We hear you

at a third to a half of other available methods, he says.

I disagree with "Giving Up" and her broad brush approach in criticizing Campbell Junior High School. "The school is a total disaster" is laying it on a little thick, don't you think? Maybe if that critic would be a little more specific, she'd get some results. It sounds to me like someone who has a problem with her child and is taking it out on the school system. We raised three children who went through local schools and we don't feel they were treated like a "herd of cattle."

"INTEREST PICKING UP IN LOCAL ELECTION"

To the readers of the Campbell PRESS

I was greatly disturbed this week to read the article written about Harold Sofris, pharmacist-owner of Campbell Drug portrayed as the villain of the pharmacy profession. I would like to respond to that particular article in Mr. Sofris' defense.

Harold Sofris and his family have been actively involved in their community and the Bay Area by participating in organizations extending from pharmacy, the fine arts, performing arts, religious organizations, ecology and presevation of historic sites, and numerous contributions to charities and fund-raising events.

As a pharmacist for 18 years, Hal has dispensed more than drugs. He has been a patient and sympathetic person who dispenses prescriptions to those who would otherwise be ignored and-or inconvenienced. Patients would otherwise have to travel great distances in order to find similar services. He is a rare individual who took the time with each and every patient to make sure that they understood what they were taking, explained the proper use of the medication and often why it was prescribed.

Hal has never turned a patient away because of financial difficulties, be they private or Medi-cal. Those who are Medi-cal recipients especially know the pain of rejection by not only most pharmacists, but also doctors, dentists, and other medical professions who do not want to take the time to treat these particular people due to the monumental paper work and lapse of time in payments sometimes extending up to six months or a year for a simple office visit.

Hal has let many of these people who he knows are less fortunate run up large bills, mostly in prescriptions, usually due to their own personal hardships. This was done because Hal so strongly believed that these people would never receive help or financial assistance anywhere else.

Hal's transgression, whatever the circumstances, are due to the fact that he always placed the patient over and above himself and out of sympathy for a Medi-cal patient who was destitute, lonely and depressed.

It is my sincerest hope that Hal Sofris will be judged by his many years of dedication to both his profession and his patients rather than a single error in judgment.

His family and he have suffered immensely from the circumstances stemming from this incident. He still intends to maintain his position in the community, to service his patients in the same manner as he has in the past, continue to keep his drugstore open and make any restitution necessary to clear the way for his return to the pharmacy profession as soon as possible.

He has been a friend and a member of your community whose only error was to be kind to another human being.

Sandra A. Sofris

Editor's note: This letter from Hal Sofris' wife, Sandra, is in response to an article in the Campbell PRESS last week reporting that the local pharmacist had recently had his license revoked by the State Board of Pharmacy and that the local drug store had been placed on two years probation with a 30 day penalty (from Feb. 15 to March 16) during which the pharmacy department of the store would be closed.

Take a look at all candidates in West Valley College race

EDITOR:

Most citizens are not aware that the cost of putting a 200-word statement of qualifications in the ballot for the West Valley Community College election must be paid by the CANDIDATE. The estimated cost for two candidates was over $2,000, according to the Registrar of Voters at the time of filing. For one candidate the price was estimated higher than that.

Thanks in great part to the WVTEA, only one candidate was willing to handle the financial burden of such a printing as well as the costs of extensive and expensive advertising.

This election should not be bought. Information is available in articles, letters, ads and candidates' forums. Voters should not judge qualifications, knowledge and enthusiasm on the basis of expensive printed materials.

I urge voters to investigate all candidates and vote accordingly.

Brummal attacks high West Valley tax rate

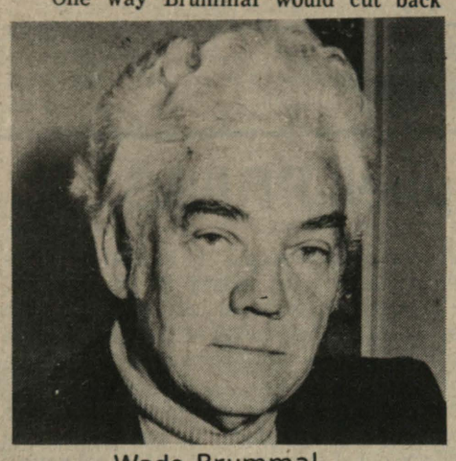
WADE BRUMMAL, 62, a Santa Clara school teacher and planning commissioner, has gained the backing of the West Valley Taxpayers and Environment Association and is running the campaign with the most organization and the biggest bucks.

He wants to see Mission College, currently under construction in Santa Clara, completed "on a small scale." Existing plans call for six phases of construction which would cost well over $100 million, says Brummal. He wants to scale that down by half by building a college which would handle only 6,000 students instead of 12,000.

"I would charge just enough tax to complete the buildings designed for occupational vocations and delay completing anything else."

The discussion leads Brummal up to the number one concern voters are facing — high taxes. "My campaign manager, is paying over $10 a day taxes — $3,700 a year."

One way Brummal would cut back would be to cut some of the community services courses now being offered. "I believe the college should concentrate on what its original purposes were — to educate youngsters for the first two years of college or train them for a job. Now, we're spending money on courses like karate and belly dancing and I don't feel the taxpayers should pay for that."



Wade Brummal

West Valley College District's tax rate, says Brummal, is the fourth highest in California. "There's no reason why we're spending more than San Jose or Foothill."

BRUMMAL SAYS HE attended a recent board meeting where $2,000 drawing tables and $300 chairs were being purchased for Mission College. He was appalled. "At a time when taxes are shooting up, we should be trying to save everything we can."

Brummal says he is pledged, if elected, to cut the West Valley budget by 10 percent across the board. "I want to save the taxpayers money and keep the educational quality high."

One way he suggests to save money is by avoiding duplication on Saratoga and Mission campuses. "I'd like to see Saratoga become an academic center and Mission campus for people getting job training. Duplicating French classes and auto shop classes makes no sense."

Brummal opposes the Saratoga stadium. "If at a future time, Santa Clara wants to go in on it — OK. But never in Saratoga. There are a lot of nice homes around and it would hurt property values. The traffic situation is pretty bad now."

Brummal, 998 Hilmar street, is a graduate of San Francisco State and has taken post graduate work at several colleges. He served as school superintendent for four years in the tiny Luther Burbank School District.

Five running for W V board

Sandy Krakowski

Krakowski wants to improve dialogue

THE MOST significant issue in the West Valley College District, says candidate Sandy Krakowski, is to "improve communication between the board and community, so the board is more aware of community needs."

There's also a need, she continues, to protect the three functions of a community college — academic, vocational and community service and to eliminate unnecessary duplication of courses offered by the college and other agencies.

On the $30 million bond issue to complete construction of Mission College, she says, "I'm in favor of completing the next phase of Mission — completing what has been started and building as the need arises. There is a need for a campus in Santa Clara and I'm definitely supporting completion of facilities. The people can decide which is the best way to finance it — by tax override or bonds."

Krakowski says she does not have a candidate's statement on the ballot because she was given a $2,000 estimate by the Registrar of Voters. "I did not come into the campaign with that kind of financial backing."

Krakowski, 730 Baylor drive, is a 34-year-old parent, community activist and occasional substitute teacher. She holds a bachelor's degree in English and elementary education and a master's degree in school administration from San Jose State College.

"I feel very concerned with education and the educational process and less concerned with lowering taxes," she says. "My goals and priorities are not financial, they're educational."

SHE CONTINUES, "I'm concerned that the board respond to community needs. I'm very concerned that resources of the community college are available to the community. I'm in favor of lifelong learning and feel the community college serves this function for many people."

On so-called frills, she says. "There are duplications that need to be eliminated, but many of the programs attacked as frills are meeting real needs on the part of students — classes in the arts and physical education."

Krakowski was originally appointed to the vacancy on a 4-3 vote of the board but the appointment was cancelled after a citizens' petition forced an election. "I have no previous connection with any members on the board," she says. "I feel I could work very effectively with all six."

A self-described "political neophyte," Krakowski says, "I'm running because I feel I can represent Santa Clara. I've been active in education as a parent and a taxpayer and have a professional background in teaching and administration.

"I want to see the community more involved in its own education — more and more women are using the community college as a vehicle for growth and I would like to see more women on the college board. I think the college has done a good job in women's re-entry programs and in the community service programs. I see the community service component under attack. It serves a real function in the community and I would not like to see it eliminated."

Casey—he's seen problems firsthand

JOHN DENNIS CASEY jr. is a fulltime student at West Valley's Mission College in Santa Clara. And that, says Casey, is the biggest incentive for voters to elect him to the West Valley College District board on March 7.

"I'm a student in the district. I've seen the problems first hand," says the 22-year-old Casey. "Other candidates don't know what's going on in the district. They get their information second hand."

Casey ticks off a list of problems that he has observed: Overcrowded classrooms, classes being cancelled when there are only 19 students, students not being able to get classes, poor food service."

It makes sense, says Casey, to elect a student. "The other candidates are old enough to be my parents. They see the college district through the administration or teachers' viewpoint. We need someone representing the students — the people who're using the services."

Karen Brown - working mom

Karen Brown

KAREN BROWN, a secretary in a local real estate office, has been dubbed "the invisible candidate." She has appeared at few forums and has avoided interviews.

The following information was taken from her mimeographed statement: She is a high school graduate who attended Pacific Lutheran University and served as a counselor at a girls home in Lancaster, Calif. She is the mother of four children and has resided in this area for a year and a half.

Running as a working mother, Brown says, "Education starts with the parents and many of us haven't had the opportunity to complete our educational needs and thereby have been unable to ensure ourselves a better position in the working field. This situation has lead to many families going on the Welfare Program."

She wants courses with a more realistic approach to everyday living so as to enable more citizens to better manage their lives. She also wants courses to retrain older citizens who find a need to reenter the business world.

On one of the biggest issues in the campaign, the $30 million bond issue, Brown writes, "I feel that the closed schools in the district could be used for classes and would also be more convenient for students to attend transportation wise, closer to home and thereby saving time."

A 'devastating' loss for schools /

Jarvis: $26.5 million loss

LOCAL SCHOOL districts would lose a total of $26.5 million if the Jarvis-Gann initiative passes and the legislature fails to restore lost revenues, Glenn W. Hoffmann, county superintendent of schools declared last week.

In a hard hitting attack on Proposition 13, Hoffmann predicted the results could be devastating for school districts.

While the legislature has been busy working on a property tax cut to head off the controversial initiative, local opposition 13 has been growing. Supporters have been busy too.

Last week a county "Yes on 13" committee was established and opened their office at 300 Railway ave. Wednesday afternoon. The new committee is made up of members of United Taxpayers, Inc. and representatives of Peoples' Advocate of Sacramento.

ACCORDING TO figures released by Hoffmann's office last week Campbell elementary school district would be hardest hit by the initiative, losing 49 per cent of their total funding for the year.

Hardest hit countywide would be Gilroy Unified with a 55 per cent reduction in funding.

Least estimated impact would be the Montebello and Orchard districts where the net loss would be 18 per cent.

| District | 77-78 property tax | Loss under Jarvis | Reduction of overall budget |
|---|---|---|---|
| Campbell Union High School Dist. | $18.2 million | $5.3 million | 44 per cent |
| Cambrian | $3.1 million | $2.2 million | 43 per cent |
| Campbell elementary | $10.2 million | $7 million | 49 per cent |
| Moreland | $6.4 million | $4.5 million | 44 per cent |

TOTAL SCHOOL district budgets also include state funding per student and special federal and state program funds.

According to Hoffmann, some of those special programs may have to be dropped because local matching funds, which are required, would be lost.

"There is no question that people are angry over the increase in their property taxes, and there are some citizens in California living on fixed incomes who have been taxed out of their homes," Hoffmann said. "This is a serious problem and one that must be solved. However, taxation is an extremely complex matter and I believe it will require the Legislature's best thinking to bring about a tax reform that helps the people with the greatest need."

Union proposal

Six school district consolidation plan

A local teachers' union last week called on trustees of six school districts in the West Valley area to consider merging into one large unified district. That move, the West Valley Federation of Teachers argue, would resolve the crisis of declining enrollment.

Letters with the proposal were sent to trustees of the Campbell Union High School District and five elementary districts including Moreland, Campbell elementary, Cambrian, Burbank and Union.

Each district, except Campbell High and Burbank (which has just one school) has already closed schools and plans further closures, President Gordon Martin said.

The organization argues that, by consolidating the districts, disruption of students by future closings could be kept to a minimum.

Rescue crew racks up one more 'save'

CAMPBELL PARAMEDICS racked up another "save" last week. This time it was a 45 year-old Campbell man who was reported in very good condition Monday at Good Samaritan Hospital.

When the emergency call came in at 9:30 p.m. last Monday morning it took the engine crew and paramedics just one minute to arrive. They were handling a minor injury accident on Latimer ave. and San Tomas Aquino road when the rescue call came for 45 Welker court nearby.

According to Paramedic-fire fighter Al Lowder, Gary Smith was not breathing when they arrived and his heart was in ventricular fibrillation (an ineffective heart action that results in death without intervention).

CAPTAIN ED BAXLEY, Engineer Gene Melone and Fire Fighter Fred Bailey began the CPR procedures while Lowder and Paramedic-fire fighter Garry Salmon installed an airway and began resusitation.

According to Lowder the rescue team had to defribillate Smith three times before a life sustaining heart beat was obtained.

The Campbell resident, who has a history of heart problems, was taken by ambulance to Good Sam where he was admitted to the coronary care unit.

BATTERY ON CITY EMPLOYEE

A 27 year old Campbell woman was arrested on a charge of battery last Friday afternoon after an incident in the lobby of the Planning Department at City Hall.

According to reports, a young stenographer in the Planning Department noticed the woman, who seemed upset, enter the waiting area and asked if she could help her. She got an obscene gesture and some obsenitites in response, she reported.

A few minutes later as the stenographer started to go across the hallway to warn the aide in the Public Works Department about the "irate citizen" the woman alledgedly confronted her and when she asked, "What's your problem?" lunged for her across the swinging door and clawed her neck and ripped her blouse.

The suspect left but the young woman called police who spotted the suspect a short time later in a car traveling on W. Campbell ave.

NEW HOME BURGLARIZED

A new home under construction on Superior drive was reportedly broken into last week and $960 worth of carpeting stolen.

Reported missing was 60 square yards of light brown carpeting.

SUSPICIOUS CIRCUMSTANCES

A city worker discovered 15-22 cal. rifle cartridges placed in a small lawn area on the south side of City Hall last Wednesday.

According to the police report, the cartridges were believed purposely set and could have discharged if they were run over by the power lawn mower.

EMPLOYEE ARRESTED

The manager of a 24 hour service station in Campbell was puzzled when he arrived at 6 a.m. last Friday morning and found the station locked up and the lights out.

After a check of the building he discovered numerous cartons of cigarettes missing, along with some cash.

An employee was arrested by San Jose police earlier that morning on a charge of driving under the influence. They found a "large quantity" of cigarettes in his car. A total of 53 cartons were taken.

RIFLES MISSING

A home on Century drive was reported burglarized last Friday during the morning hours and the victims is still trying to determine all the missing items.

The theft did include 20 rifles and shotguns, plus cash and jewelry, the man reported.

CHICKEN KILLER DISCOVERED

A man on W. rincon ave. told police he had a number of chickens and other fowl killed by dogs over the last month.

Last Saturday morning in the early hours he said he heard his chickens making noise and went to investigate. He discovered a dog attacking them and was able to capture the animal using a long, thin wire with a slip noose.

When police arrived a short time later they found the dog dead. The man said the animal apparently choked itself in an attempt to escape.

POST OFFICE HIT BY SHOTGUN FIRE

The Campbell post office at 90 E. Latimer reported damages totaling $300 last Saturday morning after one of the front windows was shot out by what police believe was a 12-gage shotgun.

A neighbor reported hearing gun shots earlier that morning to police.

Capri-San Tomas . . . which should close?

When the staff report on school closings was given to Campbell elementary trustees Tuesday night, one original recommendation was changed.

The decision to close San Tomas school should be delayed, Ken Meinecke, assistant superintendent, said last week.

A meeting with San Tomas parents last month brought the change in staff's opinion. Parents argued that officials should consider Capri School for possible closing instead. And they gave specific reasons.

First, enrollment is almost equal: 350 for San Tomas compared to 357 for Capri.

If San Tomas were sold, parents argued, the land would probably be sold for a residential development while Capri is located near professional office property. The sale of the Capri site would not generate as many new students, they reasoned.

San Tomas has the Whitney Memorial Park (school park) named in honor of a former teacher who died several years ago, the parents argued.

And the San Tomas area has already been targeted for special federal Housing and Community Development funding by the City of Campbell.

Meinecke said last week he'll be suggesting that the board hold off another year before a decision is made on which of the two schools should be slated for closing.

A complete list of the proposed consolidations and closings in the Campbell elementary district will be carried in the March 16 issue of the Campbell PRESS.

Hammer makes bid for assembly nomination

Campbell's Rusty Hammer, who received nationwide attention in 1975 as the youngest mayor in the United States, has officially entered the race for a seat in the state assembly.

On Monday Hammer, 24, announced he's seeking the Democratic nomination for the 22nd district which includes all the West Valley cities, Cupertino, parts of West San Jose and a small part of Mt. View, Palo Alto and Sunnyvale.

If Hammer, a Campbell city councilman, wins the June 6 primary he'll be facing Assemblyman Richard Hayden this November.

The young city official made it clear Monday his first task is to win that nomination. But his official announcement also included some unveiled criticism of Hayden.

"The people deserve strong leadership in Sacramento," Hammer declared.

Monday's announcement was anticlimactic. Earlier, the young corporate relations coordinator for Nuclear Services Corporation of Campbell had announced he was considering the race and recently held a $25 a plate fundraising roast to test support and to build up a campaign fund. The event was well attended.

Another Democrat, John Truher, has also announced he plans to seek the nomination but has not taken out nomination papers.

Hammer's involvement in local government began long before his election to the Campbell City Council in 1972. He was a member of, and the first chairman of the Campbell Youth Advisory Commission

RUSTY HAMMER

He and his wife, Pam, live at 337 April way in Campbell.

Currently working towards his masters degree in public administration at San Jose state university, Hammer is also chairman of the board of Economic and Social Opportunities, Inc., a member of the board of the Santa Clara Valley Employment and Training Board and a member of the Santa Clara Valley Health Systems Agency board of directors.

He also serves as a board member of the county Emergency Medical Care Committee, Planning Policy Committee, Airport Land Use Commission, Santa Clara Valley Red Cross and Southwest YMCA, among others.

The workshop is designed for those considering a four-year college education anytime after high school.

Townhouse development gets the nod . . . again

The developer of a residential development on Pollard road got the nod from Campbell planning commissioners for the second time last Tuesday night.

Originally John Totah, Ron Tate and Howard Lee planned to construct a 58-unit townhouse development on a 6.76 acre site at 1871 and 1961 Pollard road and 1536 and 1560 More avenue. Both planning staff and commissioners recommended approval of the project that would have provided 2.5 parking spaces per unit.

In the public hearing before the City Council on Feb. 13 however, a majority of councilmen said they were concerned with a lack of parking. While the ratio is within the city's zoning requirements, one councilman pointed out that no on-street parking would be allowed and that few additional spaces are not available on Pollard or More avenue.

The council referred the matter back to the commission.

At the Tuesday night meeting a revised plan was heard which reduces the units to 55 and provides an additional 39 guest parking spaces. eleven spaces would be paved when the townhouses are built. The other 18 spaces landscaped and held in reserve if needed.

That plan got the unanimous endorsement from planners and now goes back before the council March 13.

In other business last week the commission:

- Unanimously approved the application of Harold Osterlund and Noel J. Brown Manufacturing Company for a revised parking ratio and plans for a mezzanine in a warehouse at 541 Division st.
- Continued to the March 7 meeting the public hearing on the application of Robert Schiro to construct eight townhouses at 360 Downing.
- Unanimously approved the request by Larry Wright for an adjustment of the sideyard setback requirement from 9 to 6 feet to allow construction of a second story addition at 1084 Central ave.

Our papers bring home the prizes

A SERIES OF EDITORIALS on San Jose community problems, and lively "family interest" news won prizes for two of Suburban Newspapers' weekly papers in recent statewide competition.

The East San Jose SUN, edited by Tom Gilsenan, brought home the first prize plaque for best series of editorials in the California Newspaper Publishers Association 1977 "Better Newspapers Contest." Awards were presented at the CNPA convention banquet Feb. 18 in San Diego.

Judges called Gilsenan's editorials "a well-written series on what the newspaper viewed as major community problems, schools, health, planning and recreation, citing examples and proposing solutions obtainable through local actions."

In the family interest category of competition, the Los Altos Town Crier took second place for its coverage of local "people" news. The judges called the Town Crier's entries "excellent, warm journalism, combined with organized and proficient layout, making the family section an appealing asset to the paper." Editor Tuck Shepherd and her assistants are responsible for that prize.

The CNPA contest drew a record 1,480 entries in over 20 categories. Large metropolitan dailies such as the San Francisco Examiner entered the competition, as well as small independent weeklies.

Child porn laws

Another measure has been introduced to the state Assembly to tighten existing child pornography laws. Assembly Bill 2371, according to author Jim Ellis, R-San Diego, would "(cover) a number of sex acts that children are made to perform and eliminate the possibility of child pornographers escaping prosecution."

If Jarvis measure wins

Just to "play it safe," according to state Senator William Campbell, some school districts have indicated they will mail dismissal notices to their teachers in anticipation of voter approval of the Jarvis-Gann tax initiative.

Existing laws require districts to notify teachers by March 15 and again by May 15 as to whether they will be rehired. School officials, Campbell's office reports, are taking the precaution in anticipation of the significant funding changes they would undergo if Proposition 13 passes.

Campbell has introduced a measure to the Legislature which would exempt school districts from having to meet the notification deadlines this year. Senate Bill 1520 would allow school boards to wait until voters have decided on the tax initiative before taking any action.

Campbell is a Republican from Whittier.

Options for hunters

The state Department of Fish and Game has announced the availability of a number of options open to hunters during the 1978 seasons.

Under a plan announced late last week the number of hunters in the state would be more evenly distributed in an effort to improve current deer management methods. The plan would establish zones statewide with a set number of permits for each zone. Quotas would be attached to the permits.

Quotas would vary, according to the department, from zone to zone. Some quotas would be "open," that is, no limit. In certain designated local areas bonus hunts would be authorized.

Committee on veterans

An Assembly Select Committee on Veteran Affairs has been created. Assembly Speaker Leo McCarthy, D-San Francisco, announced the appointment of Assemblyman Richard Robinson to head the committee.

Robinson, a Democrat from Garden Grove, will serve on the committee with Paul Bannai, Larry Chimbole, John Collier, Jim Ellis, Larry Kapiloff, Dennis Mangers, Joseph Montoya and Curtis Tucker. Their terms expires December 31, 1978.

Patients' records

Assembly Majority Leader Howard L. Berman (D-West Los Angeles) recently introduced legislation that would enable patients to see and make copies of their health care records.

Berman said his measure seeks to increase the communication between the physician and the patient.

Loans for inner cities

Inner city residents will find it easier to qualify for loans intended to apply to rehabilitate or repair their homes under legislation authored by Assemblywoman Teresa Hughes.

The legislation was sponsored by the California Savings and Loan League and is an extension of existing state law.

Consumer protection

The state senate has passed legislation to appropriate $1.7 million to establish consumer protection agencies and services at the local government level.

The legislation was introduced by Sen. Alan Sieroty, D-Los Angeles.

Sieroty said he introduced the measure based on the "excellent work of 27 local consumer affairs agencies already operating in the state."

To aid victims of disasters

Gov. Brown's first bill signed into law for 1978 is legislation establishing a $200,000 loan program to enable disaster victims to rebuild their homes with solar energy technology.

The legislation, SB 373, was authored by Senator Omar Rains, D-Ventura.

The bill would appropriate funds for interest free loans of up to $2,000 per household.

Security deposits

A measure providing for interest payments on security deposits held by landlords has been introduced to the state Assembly. The measure, AB 2466, would increase interest rates from two to five percent on impound accounts held by financial institutions on single- to four-family residences.

Author Assemblyman Willie Brown, D-San Francisco, said there is good reason for landlords to hold deposits on housing, but no reason they should earn interest on monies deposited by tenants.

'No-fault measure'

A second measure proposing a "no fault" auto insurance system for California has been introduced in the state legislature.

Assemblyman Bruce Young, D-Cerritos, introduced a no-fault bill this week. Another no-fault bill was introduced three weeks ago by Assemblyman Alister McAlister.

The latest bills come on the heels of a policy committee defeat of still another no-fault measure at the beginning of the 1978 legislative session.

Notice to tenants

A proposed law has been introduced to the state Assembly which would require landlords to grant a 60 day notice to tenants when asking the tenants to leave without giving a cause.

The measure, AB 2467 by Assemblyman Willie Brown, D-San Francisco, is intended to provide tenants with more time to find suitable housing after such notice.

"With the current stock of rental housing as such an alarmingly low vacancy rate, people who are asked to move for no reason simply need more time to find other suitable housing," Brown said.

'Geographics of cancer

Senator John Nejedly, R-Walnut Creek, has introduced a Senate Concurrent Resolution which, if passed, would direct the State Department of Health to institute a statewide study "Identifying by geographical area the current indidence of the various forms of cancer, respiratory distress and cardiac difficulties."

One of the senator's aides pointed out that this study could aid in the eventual discovery of the causes of these medical problems.

Vocational education

Assemblyman Carmen Perino, D-Stockton, said recently, he would introduce urgency legislation to counteract budget cuts that would reduce the number of positions in the Vocational Education Support Unit of the State Department of Education.

He pointed out that there would be an immediate and drastic reduction in the assistance to local school districts that have vocational programs unless state funds were granted immediately.

Catalog of earth quakes

A catalog of information on 40,000 earthquakes that have shaken California has been made available for public sale by the State Division of Mines and Geology.

The new catalog comes complete with magnetic tape data readings and accompanying text information.

According to state officials, the publication is designed to be a useful resource aid to seismologists conducting earthquake research.

The $45 catalog covers earthquakes between 1900 and 1974.

California Youth Authority

Assemblyman Alister McAlister has introduced a resolution to create a joint legislative committee that will study policies of the California Youth Authority, CYA.

'X' factor blindsides school planners

By MARK JOHNSON
Staff Writer

The traditional explanations for the dwindling youth population in Santa Clara County just aren't sufficient anymore.

A new ingredient in the mix appears to be a surprising development with great implications for the county's future.

The public school enrollment drop is popularly blamed on the end of the "baby boom" and the siphoning off of students by private schools.

But the first of these explanations is an oversimplification

The second is a myth.

Campbell elementary district faces closing up to 10 of its 17 schools

By Jose Stell
Staff Writer

CAMPBELL — Continually eroding enrollments have forced Campbell Union School District trustees to consider consolidating as many as 10 of its 17 schools.

Any consolidation will bring with it school closures, personnel shuffling and, inevitably, a public outcry.

• QUALITY EDUCATION

Wade Brummal is dedicated to making certain that the West Valley Joint Community College District provides the best possible educational program for academic students and for those seeking vocational and occupational training. This means increased emphasis on the needs of those planning to continue on to a four year institution of higher learning as well as those seeking the necessary background and skills for employment.

• LOWER TAXES

Wade Brummal is determined to reduce the present West Valley Joint Community College District tax rate which is presently the fourth highest among seventy community college districts in the State of California. The West Valley tax rate is topped only by community college districts in Barstow, Santa Clarita and Hartnell. And in capital outlay, West Valley is the second highest in the State, topped only by Lassen. The total levied taxes for the 1976-77 fiscal year for West Valley was 1.0540 while the tax rate for the neighboring Foothill District was only .7280 and for San Jose only .7750. West Valley is the highest in the State among community college districts with large enrollments.

• FEWER FRILLS

Wade Brummal is pledged to weed out Adult Education and Community Service classes that are already being duplicated by classes offered through the Metropolitan Adult Education program and through the City Recreation Department of the communities serviced by the West Valley District. This includes classes offered by private dance, health and karate studios where the taxpayers have no obligation to underwrite the self-enhancement of the individual.

• RESPONSIVE LEADERSHIP

Wade Brummal is experienced through four years service as a school district superintendent and five years as a city planning commissioner and able to cope with the 53.8 million dollar budget (1977-78) of the West Valley College District. He is the only candidate who has had experience dealing with a board of trustees and in directing a city staff. He is the only candidate who has regularly attended the West Valley Community College District board meetings during the past three months and is the only candidate with the background to step in immediately and become a strong voice on the West Valley College governing board.

Wade Brummal is seen with Auralee Street, Santa Clara's first woman councilman, and Vic Monia, president of the West Valley Taxpayers Environment Assoc.

Qualifications Galore

THE NEW MISSION CAMPUS

An Educational Complex or a White Elephant?

The administration of West Valley College District through the "Concerned Mission College Staff" states:

"Since the average student age in the West Valley Community College District is 28 years old, the impact of declining enrollment in grade schools and high schools has little or no effect on the student population served by the West Valley College (Saratoga) and Mission College in Santa Clara."

"The first phase of Mission College is already paid for and is in the process of being completed. Failure to complete the remainder of the college would ignore the mandate of the people in Santa Clara who wanted Mission College built."

Wade Brummal responds:
"If West Valley Community College dropped some of the fringe courses offered to add to overall enrollment figures and perhaps boost the salaries of top administrators, the average age of students carrying an academic course in preparation for a four year college and the high school graduates seeking job skills would make the median age lower. Then the closure of nearly half the existing grade schools and several projected high school closures would clearly indicate that West Valley College District should move slowly and carefully before authorizing any new construction."
"There are six phases of construction in the Proposed Educational Plan of Mission College" (August 1, 1973) and the total costs of construction would run well in excess of One Hundred Million Dollars. There will be plenty of empty school sites in Santa Clara to take care of any overflow of students if the Mission College site plan is reduced in scope."
"If the Thirty Million Dollar Bond Issue is defeated by the District voters and if I am elected to the Governing Board, I will vote against charging the full Thirty Million Dollar Override Tax and support only that fraction of the tax that I am convinced would be essential in providing needed occupation training, such as Automotive Mechanic, Welding and Nursing programs."
"The citizens of Santa Clara, like those of Campbell, Los Gatos and Saratoga, are concerned about the waste of their tax-dollars. They are not concerned about some administrator's dream to erect the fanciest and most expensive community college in the State. They will be satisfied with a Thirty-Five Million Dollar structure, the equal of the Saratoga campus."

Product packaging

An Assembly Joint Resolution has been introduced by Assemblyman Vic Fazio, D-Vacaville, calling for revisions in federal government regulations which permit certain food products to be sold in California at weights lower than what is indicated on product packaging.

The resolution follows a recent U.S. Supreme Court ruling that said certain products (such as meats and moisture-contained foods), should only weigh what is on the product label at the time of packaging.

Tax relief in sight?

Some $8 million of local property tax relief would be granted homeowners under a new bill submitted to the Legislature. The measure was introduced by Assemblyman Vic Fazio, D-Sacramento.

Fazio's measure would reduce certain administrative charges in the Department of Motor Vehicles. The reduction, Fazio said, would bring the charges more into line with the actual cost of services. Such an action, he said, would free up about $8 million for disbursement to city and county general funds.

The relief would only affect homeowners if the cities and counties receiving the funds use them for property-tax financed services.

Sundesert supporters

The California Water Resources Association added its voice to the list of supporters of the controversial Sundesert nuclear power plant. The association called the State Energy Commission's decision not to approve the plant "irresponsible" and said it "poses a major threat to California water supplies. . ."

The Energy Commission had the option of exempting the plant from state nuclear control regulations and voted not to exercise that action. The Senate subsequently overrode the Commission's decision.

'Turkey' tax bill

Gubernatorial candidate Ken Maddy characterized as a "turkey" the only tax relief bill thought to have a chance of gaining legislative approval within a reasonable time.

The Republican assemblyman from Fresno said he is "unalterably opposed" to Senator Peter Behr's SB 1 which would establish a transfer tax on home resales to offset property tax relief granted under the bill.

Legislative approval of SB 1, he said, will not head off voter approval of the Jarvis-Gann property tax initiative. Passage of the initiative, which may cut government spending in half, may be what is needed to elicit a "real solution" to property tax problems from the Legislature, he said.

Tea, tango, or tete-a-tete awaits Taurus

For March 4 through March 10

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Slaying the dragon may take more than one crusade, Ari. Don't give up battle just because you may have lost preliminary bout. This week your wits and will are tested. Again.

TAURUS (April 20 - May 20): Usually stable as a tripod, you may stumble this week, Taurus. To regain balance you should consult those who are older and maybe wiser. Three heads are better than one, and so forth. Last day ideal for duet — tea, tango or tete-a-tete, whichever tickles your fancy.

GEMINI (May 21- - April 19): You bust a few buttons this week, Gem, as recognition comes your way. Just don't let pushy Pride sneak up from behind while you're taking your bows. Busy week ends with a giggle.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Busy as a beaver does not a dam make, Moonbaby. Follow constructive play. First a stick and then some mud. Don't dump everything helter-skelter while "hoping for the best." Care pays off and week ends on note of confidence.

LEO (July 23-August 22): In order to make peace with self, Leo, you need to see things as they really are. This means gaining necessary detachment. The hardest peace treaties are those one has to conclude with oneself, but you can and must make the effort.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): The ability to laugh is what differentiates man from the beasts, but you can't seem to get yourself into a laughing mood first part of week. However, before week is kaput, Virgo, you hear happy news and week ends with a chuckle.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 - Oct. 22): Somewhere between the valleys and the peaks is a middle ground, Libra. Avoid extremes. Unspoken message dispatched. Listen with your heart, Lib, and week sure to end on warm note.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 - Nov. 21): First part of week apt to be spent on tenterhooks, Scorp, as problem looms. Solution is available but you must look. Be open to advice which is offered. Hint in words to Leo. Week ends weakly. Sorry about that.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 - Dec. 21): Like attracts like this week, Saj. You get worm's eye view of current situation and understand that birds of a feather really do flock together. Week ends with a flap.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 - Jan. 19): You have the lamp, the wick and the oil, Cap, now all you need is the flame. Sparks come from friction, you know. By last day lamp is lit, burning brightly and in the window. You glow.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20 - Feb. 18): Keep to surfaces this week, Aquari. Dig too-deeply and you may unearth a real "can of worms." Your natural bent is to explore things in every dimension, but some mysteries are better left unsolved. Stop flailing and float free.

PISCES (Feb. 19 - March 20): The role of pious benefactor ill becomes you, Pisces, so keep good deeds secret. Old saying: "He who gives to God and not to Fame will never mark the marble with his name." End of sermon.

License fees for collectors

State licensing fees for collection agencies would jump from $180 to $375 per year under new legislation introduced by State Senator Dennis Carpenter, R-Irvine. Fees for agency managers would also rise, fivefold, should Carpenter's measure pass the legislature.

The proposed change, announced by the Department of Consumer Affairs, reportedly sets fee levels at their 1960's level. Agency fees were cut in half in 1971 due to the economic recession and state fund surplus then existing.

The measure would affect some 600 agencies statewide and reportedly has the support of the Governor. The bill is co-authored by Assemblyman John Knox, D-Richmond.

Child care gets a boost

California child care programs received a boost this week when the state Assembly passed a measure which would grant advanced quarterly payments to publicly-subsidized programs.

The measure, AB 1009 by Assemblywoman Maxine Waters, D-Los Angeles, is intended to relieve such programs of the cash-flow problems created by "after-the-fact" state reimbursements. Under existing law the programs are reimbursed for various expenses at the end of each fiscal quarter. Carrying immediate expenses through the quarter posed a problem for a number of the facilities.

Traffic hearings

The state Assembly has passed legislation to remove minor traffic offenses from the municiple court system and set up an administrative hearing process to hear the cases.

The measure, sponsored by Assemblyman Vic Fazio, D-Vacaville, would also set up a pilot program to test the idea in Sacramento and Yolo counties.

Discriminating against renters

The state senate is due to vote on proposed legislation that would prohibit arbitrary discrimination against prospective renters with children.

The legislation, SB 359 by Senate Majority Leader David Roberti, D-Hollywood, would amend the Unruh Civil Rights Act which prevents housing discrimination to include families with children.

Raiders tip WVAL champs

End comes quickly for Panthers at Regionals

THE END CAME quickly for the Prospect Panthers in the Region III basketball play-offs after they had won two straight games against Leigh to claim the West Valley Athletic League title. But it didn't come easy!

Prospect lost a 59-56 heartbreaker to the Central Coast Section's top ranked team, Silver Creek, in the regional opener.

The loss brought an abrupt end to an incredible season for Bert Robinson and his Panthers, who became the first team in WVAL history to go into the season ending Shaughnessy play-offs in second place and come out the champ.

The Panthers trailed the Raiders by just two points in the final minute thanks to outstanding performances by Nick Seroff and Stan Kazmierczak.

SC missed a pair of free throws in the final 30 seconds and Kazmierczak was fouled on the rebound after the second miss and went to the free throw line with a chance to tie things up shooting one and one with eight seconds left to play.

Kazmierczak missed his first try but Paul Guenther soared high to grab the rebound. But Guenther missed his shot in the final seconds and SC's Melvin Holland grabbed the rebound and was fouled. With three seconds left he hit a free throw to ice the Creek victory.

SEROFF AND Kazmierczak led Prospect in scoring and on the boards in the victory.

Seroff led all scorers in the game with 24 points and led all rebounders with seven. Kazmierczak chipped in with 20 points and five rebounds.

Prospect actually outrebounded Silver Creek 23-19 in the game. Rich Nelson gathered in five rebounds for Prospect and Guenther pulled off four.

Guenther dropped six points in the victory and Tim Fleury hit four. Nelson added two.

Fleury led the WVAL champs with five assists in the game and Guenther handed out four. Kazmierczak had three and Nelson two.

Seroff led the club with two steals and two blocked shots and Guenther blocked one shot for Prospect.

Silver Creek went out to an early lead, scoring the first four points of the game, but Prospect came fighting back and took the lead 9-8 after a Kazmierczak three point play followed by a two-pointer with 5:18 left in the first.

The clubs traded hoops but then Prospect held the lead until SC took it back with 1:22 remaining in the period.

The Raiders opened up a six point lead in the second with 4:26 left at 24-18 but Guenther hit a pair of field goals, Fleury added a two pointer and Kazmierczak popped a free throw to put Prospect on top 25-24 with 2:08 left in the first half.

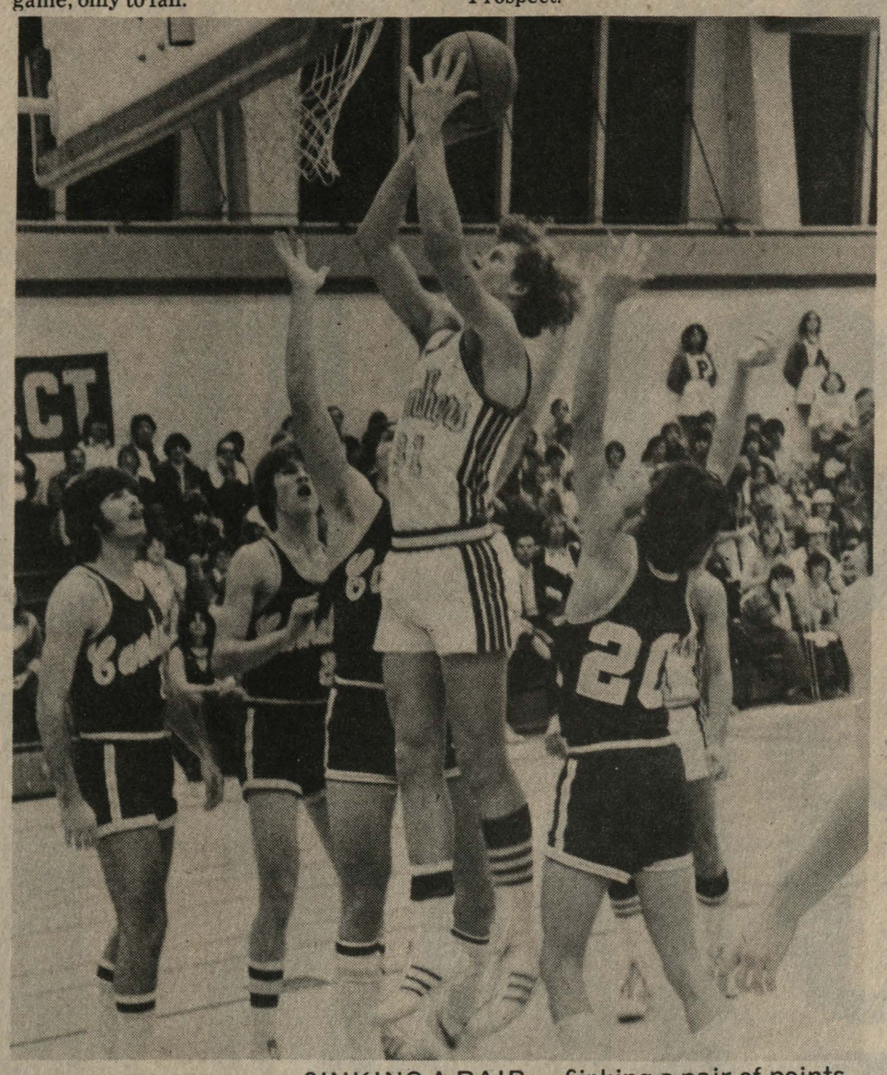
SC SCORED to go back on top but Kazmierczak hit two charity tosses and Seroff scored off of a Fleury assist to get Prospect back on top.

A Nelson bucket with 20 seconds left in the half helped Prospect take a 31-30 lead into the lockerroom at intermission.

But Creek came out to hit four straight field goals in the third period to go up 38-31 before Seroff could score. Then SC came back with three more two-pointers to lead by 11 at 44-33.

Prospect didn't quit, though, and cut the lead to seven at 48-41 by the buzzer and pulled to within two by the end of the game, only to fall.

Kazmierczak was four for five from the free stripe before missing that crucial charity toss in the final seconds. Seroff was two for three from the line for Prospect.



SINKING A PAIR — Sinking a pair of points against Camden in a game earlier this season is Prospect forward Stan Kazmierczak. Kazmierczak scored 20 points and grabbed five rebounds in last week's heartbreaking loss to Silver Creek. (Photography by Dick Sparrer)

Warriors claim frosh-soph title

THE CAMPBELL Buccaneers may not have finished in the money in the West Valley Athletic League's frosh-soph basketball race this season. But the Bucs sure had a say in who did.

Of the three top contenders for the frosh-soph title, only the Westmont Warriors managed to beat the Buccaneers twice this past season. And that proved to be the difference between first and second place.

The Warriors finished the season with an 11-3 record to cop the WVAL title by a game over Los Gatos and Leigh, who shared second with 10-4 marks. Both Los Gatos and Leigh suffered losses to Campbell.

"The key to our season was the fact that we were the only contender to beat Campbell twice," noted Warrior head coach Rick Costanzo.

The Warriors started the WVAL campaign with eight consecutive victories and then withstood losses to Camden, Los Gatos and Leigh in the second half of the season to reel in the league championship.

"WE WERE THE type of team where you couldn't say there was just one outstanding player," noted Costanzo. "Whatever the defense gave us, we had someone who could do the scoring."

Forward Jake McGowan was the Warriors' top performer this season, averaging 10 points and 10 rebounds per game. He had a high game of 26 points in a victory over Camden.

Center John Watson was a key player on defense, averaging 10 rebounds per game.

Rounding out the Warriors' starting line-up were guards Bob Ingram and Jeff Taylor, and forward Bill Allard.

Guard Dave Chappell and 6'2" Wayne Campbell played key roles coming off the bench for the WVAL champs.

Rounding out the Westmont roster were sophomores Steve Neubauer, Bill Sullivan, Duke Cullinan and John Taormina, and freshmen Scott Citta, Ed Pena and Ken Morales.

The Warriors were 3-3 in the pre-season, beating James Lick twice (65-24 and 49-39) and Awalt's junior varsity (48-38) while losing to Lynbrook's jv's (35-22), St. Francis' jv's (38-37) and Piedmont Hills (51-47).

In WVAL action, Westmont beat Camden (50-40), Blackford (55-30 and 30-23), Los Gatos (42-38), Campbell (45-42 and 38-35), Branham (31-22 and 36-28), Leigh (41-32), Prospect (41-35) and Del Mar (37-26).

The Warriors' lone losses were administered by Camden (46-30), Los Gatos (47-27) and Leigh (37-33).

Westmont's biggest win may have been over Los Gatos. Down by eight points with three and a half minutes to go, the Warriors blitzed the Wildcats 14-2 to pull out the win.

Buccaneer alumni set for tilt with varsity batmen

WHEN IT COMES to fielding an alumni team, most high schools can usually assemble only teams that are composed of over-the-hill players, who haven't performed at their respective sport since they were in high school.

But that's not the case at Campbell high school, where the Buccaneers' alumni baseball team is filled with major league hopefuls and college standouts.

The Buc alumni will return to its old haunt Saturday for a doubleheader with the Campbell high varsity. And, just like last year, the alumni will start the day as the odds-on favorite to win.

Led by ex-Major Leaguer Don Hahn and his talented brothers, Gordy and George Hahn, the alumni will battle the varsity in a pair of seven inning games. The first tilt is slated to start at 11 a.m.

Last year, the alumni posted a 3-0 victory over the Bucs, who later went on to capture the West Valley Athletic League championship. Don Hahn's bases loaded triple in the first inning proved to be the difference in the game.

Don Hahn, of course, is Campbell high's most celebrated baseball product, having played in the 1973 World Series as a member of the New York Mets.

Hahn is currently playing for the San Francisco Giants' Triple A team in Phoenix, where he hit better than .300 last year.

Hahn's brothers, Gordy and George, both played Double A ball in the San Diego Padres' farm system last year after completing illustrious careers at Santa Clara University.

Also in the alumni line-up will be former Stanford star Steve Davis, now a promising shortstop in the Chicago Cubs organization. Davis will go to spring training with a Triple A contract this season following a successful Double A campaign last year.

Other alumni players include Joe Alvarez, Don Kinzel, Jeff Mason, Steve McCrody, John Lobrovich, Stan Hedeguard, Steve Thompson, Joe Ferrari, Ted Bertron, Gary Lujan, Brian Bagley, Steve Tindel, Mark Ryan, Frank Giammona, Jim Knight and Al Mancinez.

Others interested in playing for the alumni team should contact Felix Mancinez at 374-5920 or Tindel at 255-9026.

Campbell products spark Viking wins

SWIMMING

In swimming, the magic number for a dual meet victory is 57. And the West Valley College swimming team found that "magic number" last week in its Golden Gate Conference opener against rival De Anza.

West Valley posted a very close 57-55 victory over the Dons in the Viking pool, winning the final event of the day to secure the team win.

West Valley crushed San Francisco City College 93-12 the same day to start the GGC year off with a pair of wins. A day later the Vikings handled San Joaquin Delta 84-27 and Cabrillo 78-39 in non-league tank action.

Bob Mangan (Santa Clara), Derek Hanson (Campbell), Bryan Paul (Prospect) and Mike Yates (Santa Clara) combined for a win in the 400 free relay at 3:54.1 to lift the Vikings from a 55-50 deficit to the 57-55 win over the Dons.

Jeff Symons (Del Mar) nailed a second in the 200 individual medley and Hanson was second in the 100 free at 51.1 with Paul Third. Hanson was also third in the 200 and Symons was third in the 100 breast.

GOLF

Randy Lowe (Camden) and Maurice Jean-Pierre shared medalist honors with 75's for the West Valley golf team but the Vikes lost 32-22 to Foothill.

Steve Rynewicz (Del Mar) and Dave Sasseen (Leland) each carded 83's for West Valley.

MEN'S BASKETBALL

Don Herick (Saratoga) pumped 14 points, Jack Ledesma (Lincoln) hit 13 and John Franza (Westmont) canned 12 to lead the Vikings past Diablo Valley 86-68.

Gerald Buchmann (Campbell) was singled out by Viking coach El Brown for a strong game.

WOMEN'S TRACK

Denise Holloway (Blackford) was a double winner in the weights to lead the Viking showing at the Winter Games, an AAU meet held last weekend at San Jose City College.

Nancy's O'Connell (Campbell) added a second and a third and Kathy Perkins (Leigh) posted a third and a fourth.

WOMEN'S SOFTBALL

Janet Heldt (Westmont) allowed just six four hits over six innings and knocked in a run at the plate to pace West Valley to a 16-1 non-league win over American River last week.

WOMEN'S BASKETBALL

Maureen Haniger (Peterson) popped 11 points and Michele Townsend (Camden) and Kathy Donecho (Campbell) each hit eight but West Valley lost 57-31 to Ohlone in the De Anza tournament. The Vikes also lost 74-40 to Shasta at the tourney.

BASEBALL

Jerry Joyce blasted a two run homer and Mark Bersano (Los Gatos) fired a six-hitter to drive the West Valley baseball team to a 4-2 non-league victory over Cabrillo last week.

WOMEN'S TENNIS

Margaret Keenan of Campbell was one of five singles winners for West Valley last week in an 8-1 victory over Evergreen Valley College. In another match, WVC lost to San Jose 6-3.

MEN'S TENNIS

Doug Gilbert (Blackford) picked up a singles win and Tom Hayes (Del Mar) and Bob Christy (Del Mar) combined for a doubles win in West Valley's easy 8-1 Golden Gate victory over San Jose.

GOLDEN GATE RELAYS

Sunbirds host try-out session

THE SAN Jose Sunbirds of the Women's Professional Softball League will hold their third annual open try-out session on Saturday and Sunday, March 11 and 12, at the American Savings field at the PAL sports complex.

The try-out camp is open to any female 16 and over; however only players 18 and over can be signed to a professional contract according to league rules.

"Every physical skill required to play an aggressive, intense game of fast pitch softball will be tested," said 'Bird manager Gary Cunningham, back for his second season. "It will be a tough, competitive two days, but still a good experience for those who turn out."

Last year's try-out session produced five players who made the Sunbird roster, three of them becoming regulars before the season was over.

For those girls interested in attending the try-out camp, pre-registration is required. Call Sue Kaiser at the Sunbird office (287-0900) for details.

Prospect jv's capture WVAL boot championship

ALTHOUGH they weren't able to win as many games as the Los Gatos Wildcats, the Prospect Panthers nonetheless captured the West Valley Athletic League's junior varsity soccer championship recently.

The Wildcats finished the season with a 7-1 record but still wound up second to the Panthers, who carved a 6-0-2 mark. Both teams finished the season with 14 points, but the Panthers claimed the title because of their 1-0 win over the 'Cats.

In addition to beating Los Gatos, Prospect notched wins over Leigh (1-0), Camden (3-2), Blackford (3-0), Branham (2-0) and Campbell (5-0). The Panthers battled to ties against Del Mar (1-1) and Westmont (1-1).

In non-league games, the Panthers posted victories over Riordan (3-0), James Lick (5-0), Live Oak (4-0) and Homestead (3-2).

The Panthers, who were 10-0-2 overall for the season, outscored their opponents 32-6.

"It was a great year," noted Panther head coach Larry Schembri. "Our attitude was don't give up any goals. And we played real aggressively, that's why we won."

Tom Holly, voted the Panthers' Most Valuable Offensive Player, and Todd Croft keyed Prospect's attack this season while goalie Mike McCarthy, tabbed the Panthers' Most Valuable Defensive Player, Rod Shreve and Dave Souza keyed the defense.

Souza was given the Coach's Award for ability and attitude.

Rounding out the Panthers' starting line-up were forward Bill Pearson, halfbacks Tony Lopez and Vic Martinez, and halfbacks Tom Pearson, Louis Noboa and Dave Ericson.

For the Panthers, it was their second jv soccer title, having last won the WVAL crown in 1972.

Mancinez becomes second C-M Pony grad to manage

FELIX MANCINEZ is the second graduate of the Campbell-Moreland Pony baseball program to become a manager in that organization.

Mancinez, 22, a member of the Pony League in 1968 and 1969, was named by the board of directors to manage the newly formed Palomino team for boys 17 and 18 years old.

Dan O'Leary was the first C-M Pony product to enter the managerial ranks. At 22, O'Leary is beginning his second season as manager in the Colt program.

Mancinez, an employe at Alex Porsche House in Campbell, graduated from Campbell High in 1973, the year he captained the Buccaneers to the Central Coast championships. Felix was also a member of the 1972 CCS championship team. He later played American Legion baseball and junior college ball at San Jose City under coach John Oldham.

Felix is now busy organizing the CHS alumni for the second annual varsity-alumni game scheduled Saturday at Campbell.

Felix will be assisted by Brian Bagley, 19, a student at West Valley College and the 1976 catcher for the Buccaneer varsity. Bagley, who is also assisting coach Gordon Huntze at Campbell High, is a product of both the C/M Pony and Colt leagues (the Colt program was not in operation when Mancinez was eligible).

The Palomino League is making its national debut this season, and Campbell will enter one team in an eight-team league covering an area from Santa Cruz to Hayward.

The Thorobred League age limit has been raised to 21 (from 19), and Campbell will again field one team in a County-wide league.

For more information on sign-ups and try-outs, those interested can contact Mancinez for Palominos, 374-5920 (8 a.m. to 6 p.m. weekdays) or Thorobred manager Ray Knight, 263-5855. Both seasons will begin about June 1.

PONY NEWS — Try-outs for Pony Leaguers (ages 13-14) resume Saturday at 9 a.m. at the Morgan Park Pony diamond. The drafting procedure will take place Sunday morning, and team assignments are scheduled that afternoon at 1 p.m. when all newcomers will report to the field.

Chair games in Santa Clara

THE CITY of Santa Clara has been selected as the site of the 11th annual California Wheelchair Games, according to an announcement by the Wheelchair Athletic Association.

The 1978 games will be held from May 13-21 at Santa Clara's Central Park.

Participants must register for the competition by April 27. For information contact games director Joan Martini at 984-3257.

WVAL foursome earn trip to state wrestling finals

FOUR WRESTLERS from the West Valley Athletic League have a couple of things in common this week — they each own a Central Coast Section medal and they each will take a trip to San Diego this weekend.

Branham's John Mittlestead, Camden's Don Dodds and Blackford's Dave Publicover and Carl Guardino each placed at the CCS finals last Saturday at Independence high school to qualify for the 1978 state tournament.

The top four placers in each weight class at CCS won berths in the state event, set for this Friday and Saturday, March 3 and 4, at San Diego State College.

Dodds and Publicover each made it to the CCS finals last week, but lost their last matches to settle for seconds.

Dodds won three straight at 148 pounds before losing in the finals to Hill's Ernie Gonzales to pick up a second and Publicover won three bouts at 130 pounds before losing in the championship match to Watsonville's Jim Hildebrand to place second.

Mittlestead posted a 3-1 record in the rugged tournament to finish third at 123 pounds for the Bruins and Guardino was 3-1 at 141 pounds to finish third for the Braves.

Four wrestlers from the Santa Teresa Athletic League placed at CCS, two from Gilroy, one from Live Oak and one from Leland.

Leland's Jerry Morrison was the only STAL placer from this area, picking up a third place medal at 194 pounds.

Morrison will also take the trip to the state tournament this weekend.

Coralettes place high at synchronized meet

THE TEAM of Carrie Bull and Marlee Hildreth placed first in thei division for the California Coralettes at a two day competitive synchronized swimming meet held in Los Angeles on Feb. 18 and 19.

The two placed first in the 11-12 duet division at the Pacific Association AAU Regional Age Group Championship meet.

Claudia Lazon and Allison Freemon placed second in the 17-18 duet division and Margaret Madden and Shauna Conner finished fourth in the 10 and under duet division.

Freemon, Lazon, Sandi Moore, Claire Toledo, Carolyn Lazon and Jenny Lauch finished second in the 15-18 team division.

Del Mar batmen open '78 season with doubleheader

OUT TO TRY and improve upon their record setting season of a year ago, the Del Mar Dons open their 1978 baseball schedule Saturday with a doubleheader in the annual Menlo-Atherton Spring baseball tournament.

The Dons, who set a school record last year with a sparkling 22-7 overall record, open the M-A tourney against Samuel Ayer in an 11:30 a.m. tilt at M-A high school.

Senior Jeff Blobaum, who carved a 10-4 record last year, is slated to start on the mound for Del Mar.

Del Mar tops off its day with a 3:15 p.m. game against defending tournament champ Gunn at Flood Park.

Tom Bell, who was 2-0 in limited mound action last year, has drawn the second game hill assignment from head coach Gary Cunningham.

Del Mar's starting line-up Saturday will consist of Jim Dorr at catcher, Kevin Cesar at first base, Dan McKay or Sean Venezia at second, Bell at shortstop, Craig Bates at third, Craig Richesin in leftfield, Mike Greco in center and either Bob Cirvilleri or Fred Gradel in right.

Juniors John Benevento and Larry Ragusa will serve as relievers while Bill Tsamis, Scott Levander, Jerry Miahara and Mark Milioto give the Dons bench strength.

The Dons will battle host Menlo-Atherton Tuesday, March 7, in a 3:15 p.m. game at Del Mar high.

Campbell softball sign-ups

SOFTBALL teams interested in entering the Campbell Adult Softball League should attend an organizational meeting on Monday, March 6, at 7 p.m. in the Employee's Lounge at the Campbell City Hall.

All information concerning the league, including entry cost, will be discussed and roster forms will be available. Sixty percent of the members of any team must live or work in Campbell.

Five vie for West Valley College board

didates for the single board vacancy to actively support a $30 million bond issue for completion of Mission College. "It's the most economical way of building a college." If the bond issue fails, which it probably will, Casey is then in favor of levying a tax override for completion of Mission.

THE COLLEGE DISTRICT, he says, has promised the people of Santa Clara that they would have a college. "My father has been paying taxes for a college in Santa Clara since I was in high school. The people within our district have been ripped off for 15 years."

John Dennis Casey Jr.

Completing Mission, says Casey, is a moral committment. "I personally feel had we had our heads on straight, we would have put the college in Santa Clara to begin with,"

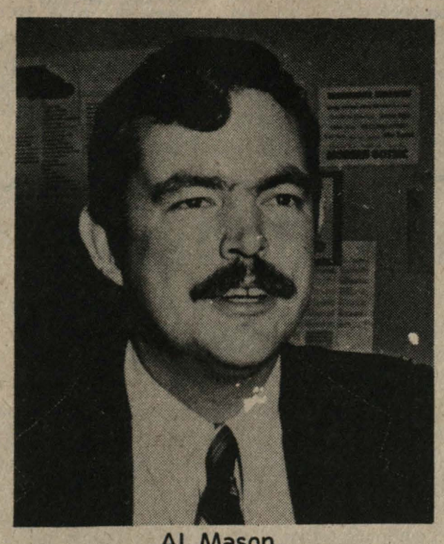
One of the least talked-about issues in the West Valley race, says Casey, is lack of credibility of the current board. "I've seen the board fall into a position of not really being trusted. There's a tide of disenchantment and I'd work to stop that."

On the controversial stadium, which Saratoga residents have opposed, Casey has this to say: "I don't think we need one in Saratoga. I do think we need one in Santa Clara. It seems to me ludicrous to spend money trying to put in a stadium when people don't want it, especially when you have people at the other end of the district who do want it."

While other candidates attack so-called "frill" courses, Casey pursues a softer line. "If you just look at a list of college classes, a lot of things will appear to be frills when they are not." Many so-called frills are, in fact, necessary PE courses, says Casey.

Casey lives at 3710 Peacock court, Apt. 3. He's single and works as an auto club dispatcher.

Mason wants to halt Mission construction



Al Mason

AL MASON has the most fiscally conservative stance of any candidate for the West Valley College District governing board. He wants to halt construction on Santa Clara's Mission College and put the land up for sale.

"Why is the West Valley College going ahead on building a second campus after the people voted against it four times?" he asks.

The answer: "Because the majority of members of the West Valley governing board are listening to the college administrators who spend the money rather than the taxpayers who have to pay the bills."

Mason, 33, a former newspaper publisher, says he got into the race "because I was tired of going to the polls on election day and having to choose among candidates who were unrepresentative of the largest single constituency in the district, the overburdened taxpayer."

Mason zeroes in on the high tax rate as the greatest single issue in this college district. "A major reason for that high tax rate is the insistence of the governing board on the continued construction of Mission campus, despite the fact that on four separate occasions the people of the college district have voted overwhelmingly against building Mission campus."

It follows that Mason opposes the $30 million bond issue on the March 7 ballot. "I personally plan to vote 'no' on the bond issue and believe it will be overwhelmingly defeated."

TO MAKE things easy for the voters, Mason suggests that people who favor the bond issue vote for someone else and those who oppose it vote for him.

Another focus of Mason's campaign is "frill" courses. He has this to say. "Throughout the West Valley College District, many schools have been closed for lack of enrollment. All indications are that this trend will continue. The college district administration is trying to fight the loss of student population by offering such recreational courses as belly dancing, jogging and home gardening, obviously designed to artificially inflate the size of the student body by enrolling people whose interest is not education but recreation."

He continues, "It is this artificially inflated enrollment that the college district is using to rationalize the construction of additional facilities at a time when other school districts are closing schools."

Mason, a graduate of San Jose State with a BA in journalism, has worked as a journalist since 1967 and is currently employed as an advertising and printing salesman for Nowels Publications in Menlo Park. He is chairman of the Santa Clara Valley Committee for Tax Reform Immediately (TRIM). He lives at 3455 Notre Dame drive.

Mason promises to be a vocal member on the governing board if elected. "It would be my goal to become the conscience of the governing board in all matters relating to taxpayer concerns."

Business briefs

KOCH APPOINTMENT

Larry L. Koch, manager of Crocker Bank's Pruneyard Center, was recently appointed an assistant vice president of the firm.

The 35 year-old manager joined Crocker in October of 1977. Prior to that he was vice president and manager of Camino California bank's San Jose office.

Koch and his wife, Gretchen, are the parents of a son and live in San Jose.

BEARD REAPPOINTED

George J. Beard was recently reappointed branch manager of Pacific Finance Loans' Westgate branch office.

The local man returns to the Westgate office where he formerly served as manager for three years, followed by a six-month assignment in which he established and managed the firm's contract center.

Beard and his wife, Paula, live in Campbell with their five children.

Water facts

Q: With the present over abundance of water in our area, what will happen to the water rates? Will they be at a lower rate than before the drought?

A: To begin with, we have not completely recovered from the drought problem. The overdrafted underground water basin has not recovered and will not recover, even under normal conditions in the future, for perhaps several years. However, this should not significantly affect water costs. As it now stands, the conservation surcharge, given to the local investor-owned companies by the Public Utilities Commission for voluntary rationing programs, has been removed or will be removed by April 1, 1978.

As to other changes in rates, the continuing inflationary pressures preclude any further reduction. If the cost of doing business continues to increase, including proposed substantial increases in water costs from the Santa Clara Valley Water District, we can anticipate the necessity for increases in water rates.

"YOU DON'T HAVE TO CLIMB A MOUNTAIN TO GAIN ENLIGHTENMENT."

Just send away for the Consumer Information Catalog and a key to enlightenment will appear in your mailbox.

The Consumer Information Catalog is put out by the Federal Government. And it lists over 200 of their booklets that you can send away for. Most are free. And they can help you with things like how to buy a home, how to grow vegetables, how to deal with headaches, simple plumbing repairs and many other everyday and not-so-everyday problems.

So if you wish to learn about the mystic sensibilities of the wayward ancients, put on your climbing gear.

But, if you wish to know about how to fix a leaky faucet, send for the catalog. Write: Consumer Information Center, Dept. A, Pueblo, Colorado 81009.

Remember, it's free. Which is only right. After all, the first step towards enlightenment shouldn't enlighten your pocketbook.
